

#OUR STORY

A group of professionals sharing the same vision about social responsibility set up The Social Incubator, almost 6 years ago, to increase the chances for social and professional integration of the vulnerable youth.

Psychologists, vocational counsellors, trainers, along with ambassadors, mentors and volunteers bring support to the youth in their quest for self knowledge, finding their vocation and fulfill their potential.

#STORY HEROS

"I first heard about the Social Incubator from the people working in the child protection public system. Finding the first meetings interesting, I wanted to attend the next. After having participated at the first workshops and vocational counselling sessions, I started to see things differently and take life more seriously. For the next few years, I would like focus more on my university studies. Did not yet decided to get hired, but in the near future I want to look for something that I like and it fits me."

Maria, passionate about painting (20 years)
